Rice, Novak Schedule Voice-Organ Program At St. Paul's Sunday

Doc. Rice, vocal student of Robert Larson, and Louie Novak, organ student of Dr. E. A. Nesdahl, will be presented in a dual recital at St. Paul's Lutheran church tomorrow at 4 p.m.

Both Louie and Doc are junior pre-theological students working toward a B. S. degree with majors in applied music. Both are active in campus musical organizations.

Rice To Begin

Rice, a tenor, will open the program. Vocal selections will include Handel's "Where'er You Walk" and "Total Eclipse" by Handel.

Novak will then present the first group of organ selections included in his program. They are Handel Aria, C. V. Stanford's "Prelude in D minor, Opus 105, adg" and Bach's "Little Fugue in A minor."

German Numbers Next

Rice will then render a series of songs from Schumann's "Dichterliebe." Included will be "Im Wunderschonen Monat Mai," "Aus Meinen Thranen Spriessen," "Die Rose, Die Lilie, Wenn ich in deinen Augen Seh'" and "Ich Grolle Nicht." Completing the vocal rendition will be "Der Nussbaum" by Thou Faithful and Deal," from Bach's "Little Fugue in A minor."

Organ selections completing the program will be "Adoration" by R. S. Mumford, and "Prelude" by "The Little Bells Verper" and an Ed Advance number, "Von Himmel Hoch."

1st Semester 'Tales' Due In Ten Days With Man Changes

Delayed because of technical difficulties, the first semester issue of Castle Tales, campus literary magazine, is expected to appear in a week from Tuesday, Advance publication date next week.

According to Ted Heinecke, junior and editor, the format and style of the publication have undergone many changes. The magazine will be smaller in size, but will contain as many pages as in former years. Proof sheets have already been completed, with art work and a main section being done.

Many new names will appear in the table of contents, Heinecke revealed. More than 10 freshman authored works have been accepted. Standbys whose work will be represented are Jim Hilton, Dean, Bob Stigler and Gus Schumacher. Each department will be dominated by the work of 10 new contributors.

Other features include a new cover design by Bob Stigler, junior; cartoons by Dick Miller, sophomore, and photography by Big Becker, junior, and Denise Hutchinson, freshman. Elizabeth Jewell will reprise the local enamored white prose.

Next issue will appear in the spring, and a special issue of the recital will begin early in February.

Tex Nights in a Barroom" is one of the most famous of the temperance plays. Written in the 1850's by Timothy Shay Arthur, it was first produced in print from a Arthur's novel of the same name.

Heinecken Visits Inn

Ted Heinecken, junior, will play the philanthropic Mr. Morgan, who visits the quiet village of Cedarville three times during the 10-year period. Each call at the Sickle and Sheaf inn reveals the gradual and inevitable results of drink on the town.

The first visit introduces Simon Slade, the town's most disrespected citizen, played by Jerry Nerenhausen, freshman. Following the period of Frank Slade, the landlord's son, is taken by Fred Otto, sophomore.

Chester Kershenbaum, sophomore, will play Simple Switch, a Yankee trader over whom run the first tragedy of the play.

Rice Plays Drunkard

Doc Rice, portrayed by Donald Rice, junior, is the town drunkard, specializing in the quaffing habits of Sir Dennis Drink, Lavinnia Otto, freshman, who is understudied by Barbara Chaney, also a freshman, completes the picture, fulfilling role of the oversad and wretched drunkard. Mrs. Rice, Doc's mother, drunkard's daughter, is taken by Lavinnia Otto, freshman.

Bernice Hilmer, senior, plays Mary Morgan, Mr. Morgan's daughter. Mary is loved by Frank Slade, the landlord's son, is taken by Fred Otto, sophomore.

Family Honeymoon On Screen Tonight

"Family Honeymoon," a comedy starring Fred MacMurray and Claudette Colbert, will be presented tonight at 7 and 9 in the Little Theater.

Upcoming offerings taken at these theaters so far have been just as good, if not better. It would like to remind students that all profits are put into funds support ing student government activities." stated Studebrecker.

Holiday Produces Shower Of Diamonds

By Millie Schulz

Bells were not the only cause of ringing ears on Christmas Eve, if guesses also sprinked one or two diamonds, according to reports that Wartburgers were announced during the holidays.

Nores Fiedel, public relations director, put a diamond on Janette Krahmer of Waukon, who reaches fourth grade next term school in Waverly. Rod Bendixen of Hampton and Ramsdon, Ia., presented a sparkler to a former Wartburg student, Jane Peters, richest of Alvord, who is working at Aurora Falls, Ill.

Bostwick Gives Ring

Another diamond, senior from Stoughton, Wis., became engaged to Jerry Bostwick, also of Stoughton. Margaret Fuchs, senior from Dyersville, Iowa, received a sparkler from Jerry Schley, Ill., have declared their engagement, and he is a '52 Wartburg graduate and a junior at Wartburg seminary in Dubuque.

Peggy Kreyf, sophomore of Mason City, Iowa, received her ring on Jan. 4 from Ed Schneider of Waverly, a former student now serving in the armed forces in Okinawa.

More Announce

Engaged freshmen include Dolores Morrill of Waverly to Sid Curtis, junior of Waverly; Virginia Ann Hoffman of Waverly to Eugene Wilhelm of Dubuque, and Mary Ann Hoffman of Waverly to Lawrence Borchardt from Dallas. Wis. Ben Brandt, freshman, Wausau, Wis.

Jo Dean Eschenbrunn, freshman of Miller, Ia., received her ring from Orvon Vesely Jay, also of Miller, on Dec. 25. Jo Dean, graduate from Waverly, became engaged to Jay on Christmas Eve. Jay graduated from Hamilton Business College, Fort Dodge, Ia., and is employed by Armour and Co. Miss Eschenbrunn is a freshman at Wartburg.

Luther League Wins Decorations Contest

Winners in the Christmas decorations contest were announced this week by Rodney Blaske, sophomore and chairman, with first place going to the Luther League.

Runner-up was Wartburg Players, and third place winner was Mission Fellowship. Prizes of $10, $7.50 and $5 are being awarded the winners.

According to Blaske, the committee wishes to thank all who participated in the contest and hopes for more enthusiasm in future years.

Streich To Talk Sunday

The Rev. La Verne Streich, assistant pastor at Trinity Lutheran church, Waterloo, and speaker on Lutheran Student Association Day broadcast, will speak on "The Pastor and Worship" during the regular meeting of Chi Rho to morrow at 1:30 p.m. in the Little Theater.

Dean, Army Chaplain On Convo Program

Dr. A. E. Hardter, faculty dean, and Chaplain W. H. Wolfe, returned from Korea, will appear on next week's convo program, according to Hardter. Services will be held, and a combo consultor chair.

Dr. Hardter will speak Tuesday on his experiences in Korea, and Chaplain Wolfe is to address the student body on Thursday. Student body meeting originally slated for Thursday is being postponed until Tuesday, Jan. 27, in order to make room for Chaplain Wolfe's appearance.

The Best To You In '53 . . .

It's not exactly big news anymore, but 1953 is now with us. And since this is the TRUMPET'S first chance to say anything about it, today's editorial space is devoted to the traditional practice of well-wishing prompted by the posting of a new calendar. In order to give the wornout "Happy New Year" a rest, however, these wishes will be a bit more specific.

To the entire Wartburg campus, may the new year bring less bickering and more united effort, more interest in student government and more friendliness between the students and faculty. To a growing college, may 1953 bring fulfillment in part of the ever-expanding dream, another record-breaking enrollment in the fall, and a booming start on century number two.

To all Knight athletic teams, may the year bring winning seasons. And a special wish that the current cagers team may capture its conference championship.

To the class of '53, may you find complete satisfaction in that future for which you've been preparing.

To the faculty, may you continue to be leaders of extra-curricular fields at Wartburg, may 1953 bring more of the peak performances of yet two of petty rivalries and cliquey-fettings.

To those of you who are getting married, a wish for years of happiness and a hope that you've made the right choices. To those who aren't, good hunting!

To those who are flunking out, may you find studying less of a chore. To those who are being fired by the firm, may you discover some of the other rewards college life has to offer.

To all campus leaders and your successors, may you find completely satisfactory phone plans, copyright-free your fellow students and strength to endure the inevitable headaches of your positions.

And to all readers, may 1953 yield a new measure of peace, happiness and security, and may God flood you with blessings of both the material and spiritual variety.

Three cheers for Jerry Haver (who wants his name omitted). Tuesday morning he stopped in to see Mrs. Woetzberg in the ladies' room.

Mrs. Woebbers, how many coeve gots do I have?" he queried. She looked around the empty space for a moment and then answered, "Why, I don't see any."

"Good," said Jerry, "what happens if I take another cut?"

Mrs. Woetz's answer was unprintable.

"Well," he said triumphantly, "put a stamp on the envelope and throw it in the nearest mailbox. I'll be home soon."

Although, in fact, he was so grateful he couldn't even think of any suitable words to express it, Jerry Haver's answer to Mrs. Woetzberg's query was, "Thanks a million." Mrs. Woetzberg smiled in appreciation of Jerry's wit, but Jerry's answer was lined up with many others in the past few years. Mrs. Woetzberg's self-imposed chamber of horrors has never been the same since Jerry's other answer to her query was, "Why, up, up." "I'd like to, but I've gotten me hands full this weekend." "The boys in our floor are having a party this weekend." "Oh, they're endless. You shouldn't have any trouble."

POLITICAL INQUIRY

By Bob Kodros

Will New Year Be Happy?

"Happy New Years!" no longer means what it says. It's rapidly becoming an expression for cynics. The year 1953 has come with all its inferiority complex and ill use in. It's going to be a year of important and grave decisions, affecting our future lastingly.

Our world's political outlook has grown from bad to worse. Korea, Indo-China, Malaya, Egypt, French Morocco and Israel are the major areas where Kremlin-inspired forces have attained their partial objectives. Iran and India may be the next to see trouble.

The present war in Korea attract less and less attention every day, in spite of our biggest efforts to bring the war to a satisfactory conclusion. The Korean war with continuous bombing is becoming as impossible as catching an eel under water with bare hands. Even if we can force the communists to their senses in Korea we will be attacked in the back in other places.

There will be no peace in this world as long as communism remains an organized, effective force. Knowledge of communist philosophy, or will to combat it, is lacking. The Atlantic Pact is a step in the right way, but only for those between the free world and totalitarian Russia is the ultimate objective.

What hope then can we have for 1953? Either we ourselves must become totalitarian ourselves, or we must organize every possible force against communism. Our policy of containment, of keeping our undivided attention on Korea and almost forgetting Indo-China, together with other troublespots where the Communists are still scoring victories.

We must change our tactics, or we will start during our graves. If we, as a nation, are not willing to back our convictions with force, we are no longer the fittest to survive.

1953 Will Have Rough Time Matching Excitement Of '52

By Ted Heinecker

Although it was just another year for most people, 1952 was a momentous one for Wartburg—marking progress through its most frequent difficulties to its present status as a top-flight liberal arts school.

Last year was a noteworthy one for many reasons. Dr. Clifton Ellis retired as Wartburg president and was succeeded by Dr. Oscar Tressler with significant events occurring in almost every aspect. Expansion took place, and the Wartburg Action news-all appeared in the TRUMPET as headlines of a constantly growing college.

Merry Big Business

To choose the biggest news story of 1952 would be a difficult thing. Last spring the Wartburg Academy of Music and of course the Centennial commemorating Wartburg's 100th year.

Last fall the Amsterdam Bathroom choir's appearance was held on campus and Wartburg students had a chance to hear their church in action. Such important issues as the proposed church merger and the RSV Bible were discussed.

Knights Make Merry

In the field of fine arts Wartburg's Concert Choir and Band continued to enjoy success. Charles Lutz's Lenten Day Address and Eleanor Steber appeared on the campus. The Wartburg Players were usually packed to near-capacity.

Wartburg choir, Castle Singers and the Knights of Song added gems with tongue and better tours. Many new musical groups were also formed—the Wartburgcommunity band, the Wartburg string band.

The Sundgaard's conference basketball kings gave Wartburg a season's average in the Iowa-Minnesota conference. The Knights' best season in the play-off for the loop crown, the Knights' best season since was the loss to Morningside, which decided Wartburg's fate of a berth in the NAIB tourney at Kansas City.

Another banner year in sports was the TRUMPET spread the news—the Knights of Song—Intramural Griffins Successful

Wartburg's athletic program has its light and humorous side, and 1952 was no exception. Hank Diers, ever sensitive Wartburg tradition, was elected president of the "Ugly Men's Club" in December. Hall, male students were nevertheless competing a great deal toward the women's dorm.

Wartburg may have had better years than 1952 in some ways, but never before has so much been concentrated in such a short time.

Initial Student Senate meeting of 1953 opened with a boosting cheer for Vice-president Burt Bindemann, who became engaged during the holidays. Congratulations, Burt.

Items up for discussion fall under the "old business" category. The prayer chapel, first proposed last year, was brought before the group for more study. General feeling seems to favor the remodeling of a room in some campus building. More research is being done on the subject.

With semester exams just around the corner, the faculty asked Senate to take action in the hassle of Herb Fritchel, sophomore; Jack Arthaber, junior; and Norm Bleckert, sophomore, research on the problem and finding a swivel show this year will be handled by Bonnie Bittner, senior; Bob Vogel, freshman, and Barry Bernhoff, junior.

Knights Rap Westmar, 88-64; Adix — 41

By Gus Schumacher

Westmar, touted to be the darkhorse of the North division, didn't have the stuff to match the fireworks of Bill Adix and his Wartburg mates, who bombed a record total of 88 points last night in the Knights gymnasium. The 88-64 romp gave the Knights a 2-0 loop record.

Bill Adix, sinking set shots, jump-shots, tip-ins and layups, produced almost half of the Knights' points—41. His total bettered the 40 he hit against St. Thomas in the Shrine tourney at Marshalltown a week ago. Amazingly, the rangy hook artist needed only 20 shots to hit his total of 16 field goals—a .800 shooting per cent accuracy.

Starting off sadly, Bill collected only four points in the first initial quarter. But in the second period he found the range, scoring to bring his halftime total to 18.

Bill Nearly Perfect

In the last half Bill came within a whisker of a perfect night. He hit from the range on 10 of 11 from the floor and dropped in five out of seven free throws for a dazzling output of 25.

Ken Rickwell, who potted 16, also had a deadly eye from the set as he pumped 13 shots for the win while Vern Wartburg hit nine.

Wartburg's fast break was developed by the Westmar boys as they topped the previous team high of 82 set against Wartburg at Morningside town last Saturday. It also shattered the Wartburg single game record posted in St. Mary's 87-72 conquest at Wartburg last month.

5 Steals For Bartreck

Jack Bodgewamp, the shrt-handed mite the ball seven times, opened the scoring for Westmar with a set from Monte Wuthrie forward, and drilled in a jump shot from the court for a layup. The score was tied 21-21 when Bill Adix and Rickwell's driving layin put the Knights in front for the first time. Set shots left in the first period.

Ace Gordon Bartreck, Waterloo valley whiz brought the Eagles within four points of the Knights, 39-34 as the quarter ended.

In the third quarter the arc and stanza Wartburg's offense functioned like a well-oiled machine and good defensive reboarding by Bill Adix, Rickwell and Schmidt limited Westmar's scoring possibilities.

17 By Adix In Quarter

When Westmar's great man, Ace Gordon, acquired his fifth foul and left the game with 3:30 to go in the third period, the Knights were leading 61-48. Gordon finished with 11 points in the period, while the entire Westmar squad registered 17.

Substitutes pranced into the lineup in the final quarter with the responsibility of protecting the big-time margin. As the buzzer crowd clamored for scores late in the game, the subs were thrilled with enough points to establish a new team record.

Knights Blast Olds

Against St. Olaf Tuesday the Knights united in the first quarter, hitting 37 per cent of their shots to burst into a top-speed 27-11 lead. They maintained the pace for an easy 82-60 triumph.

Bob Adix proved himself a dizzying battle in the individual scoring department. He banked 18 while Bill collected 33.

WAA Will Discuss I-M Basketball Wed.

Intramural basketball will be the main topic of discussion at the monthly meeting of the Women's Athletic Association Wednesday, January 14 at 7:15 in the Kirn gymnasium.

Progress of hot dog sales at basketball games and plans for bowling sessions are also items on the agenda.

Following the business meeting the play-offs in volleyball competition will continue. Mary Sorenson's volleyball team leads the competition with a record of three wins. In second place is Delores Meyer's squad with two wins and one loss, while the group captained by Mary Duffin has two wins and two losses.

As Bundgaard and his tinning basketeers are not only extremely popular with the students and citizens but the wife and children group of small boys from Marshalltown. When the Knights appeared in the Fisher gymnasium at Marshalltown last month they captured the interest of a whole gang of noisy boys. The little urchins were so busy when the Wartburg team had they lined up under the sidelines while the Knights took their warm-up shots, struggling with each other to grab stray balls, which they quickly returned to the Axmen.

Who says the regulars get all the gravy and white meat? Last night Wartburg established a new single game scoring record by thumping Westmar, 88-64. And what player had the distinction, the unique thrill of making the record breaking basket? It wasn't Bill Adix. The honor came to an unheralded sub, Leon Wahrend, a junior who had played in only 16 games. He got down the middle in speedy fashion and shot nestled in the twine, the words erupted in hysterical applause.

The sports writers for the St. Olaf student newspaper, the Manitou Messenger, are a caustic lot of scribes. It's a rare occasion when they offer anything remotely complimentary to the Oles in their column which is titled "The Lion's Tale." After the double loss they dropped their first three games the column launched these ferocious attacks:

"The Oles have played three games now. And it's still impossible to decide whether the '52-53 season will be devoted to winning basketball games or developing character. Assuming that the college has enough intestinal moxie to withstand another season like the current one, the decision is that it would be very refreshing—and different—to have a winning team."

In pre-conference games teeing at the North division of the lowa conference have made remarkable showings in hits, with squads from the North Central and Midwest conferences. Wartburg whipped IWCE, a well-rounded member of the North Central loop, and Coe and St. Olaf of the tough Midwest conference, both by whopping scores.

Luther whaled North Dakota U., another North Central outfit, and edged St. Olaf.

A couple of days ago I decided to do something to take my mind off the basketball season which is now in full swing. Normal and abnormal college students, Paul Duncan found me and suggested that we go bowling. So to the alleys we went. I trudged Duncaner and shocked myself by blasting the pins for a robust 182.

Well, that's all right. It's only a "300 game."

The pin-setter had a field day. I tallied a petite 541

Axmen 3rd In Shrine Meet

By Chuck Lutz

Wartburg's revamped Simpson-Bartz ball squad, bolstered by the addition of Bill Schroeder, finished third in the Shrine tournament at Marshalltown. The Knights fell to St. Thomas, 70-52, in the night before Coach Bundgaard thought most of the first three quarters.

St. Thomas took tournament honors by trouncing Loras College, 74-61, in the championship flight, 74-57. The Purbers squeezed by Simpson, 74-69, in the first round.

Knights Better 2nd Time

Although they had to settle for third place, the Axmen looked better the second time they met Loras. Wartburg was defeated in the first round by a 79-66 margin. And in fulfilling the promises to a three point victory, the Knights weren't the same squad which floundered earlier in the season to an 83-61 rout at St. Thomas.

Center Bill Adix blazed a new school mark into the record books as Wartburg's losing first-round effort, dunking an even 40 counters.

Rickwell Top Scorer

Vern Knights hit in double figures as Wartburg bowed in the consolation tilt. Ken Rickwell led with 18, Schmidt and Bill Adix garnered 10, Bob Adix sunk 12, and Bartreck 11. After a slow opening quarter, Wartburg jumped ahead at 21-19 and stayed there. Simpson's Al Haughey was tops for the game with 26.

Bill Adix easily took scoring honors for the meet, totaling 58. In the St. Thomas game two Tommie rangers fouled out trying to stop the Knight pivotsman.

Grapplers To Open Dual Mat Season At Mankato Wed.

By Fred Gonnerman

In spite of the holiday layoff, making the wrestlers is surprisingly not the only problem for Wartburg's grappling squad, which opens its conference campaign Wednesday at Mankato Teachers.

Coach Bundgaard is optimistic, however, and looks pretty ragged at this point. Coach Bundgaard has seen such this week.

The main problem is one of the strongest, most experienced squads in the conference. The Mankato meet will undoubtedly be a real proving ground for the Knights this season.

Lower Weights Weak

At present the lower weight grapplers will lack that necessary experience and smoothness. Top candidate for the 123-lb. class is Bob Grenzke, freshman.

Freshmen Ken Johnson and Kermit Slaughter are both vying for the 130-lb. class, while either Tom Sanders or Keith Bevers, both seniors, will fill the 137-lb. slot. In the 147-lb. weight top man will be either Er Hoffmann, junior, or sophomore Fritz Reyelts.

Rensch Sterling At 157

Ken Rensch, standout mat freshman, placed second at the Shrine meet at Iowa State Teachers before injection and will work in the 157-lb. class. Al Bill Brandt whipped Rensch for that berth in the meet, only to be pinned 2-0 by Mervin of CC who placed second in the nation in his class last year.

Juniors Bob Dirks and Ray Beaudet will be moved up to 177 and 167 respectively. The outstanding heavyweight candidate is 6-3 1/2 Norbert Woods, has been sidelined with a chest injury, so that department is still a three-for-all between sophomore Bob Schmidt and freshmen Joe Davison and Ivan Wenzel.

The Luther match at Decorah previously scheduled for Jan. 14, has been recently changed to Tuesday, Jan. 13.

Wartburg Students Reveal Resolutions

By Gus Schumacher

Some people who make New Year's resolutions are dead serious and really intend to follow through on whatever they resolve to accomplish. Other individuals merely make resolutions because doing so at the beginning of the new year is customary. These people usually voice their resolutions while in a facetious mood and their vows are shattered a short time after they're made.

Most people, however, don't bother to make New Year's resolutions because, knowing they couldn't follow them, they consider the practice idiotic. People belonging to this anti-resolution category deserve a cousing 26-gun salute. They are aware of their limitations.

Carolynn Stumme, a provocative little sophomore, doesn't believe in making New Year's resolutions. "It's too hard for me to live up to 'em," she claims.

While stirring his coffee down in the Den Thursday night, senior Henry Boergerdt, a stunt Canadian whose face invariably flashes a ruffless smile, offered this lest about resolutions.

"I don't have to make 'em. I'm perfect as I am."

Beverly Axel, freshman, expressed a resolution common among Wartburg students—to study harder.

Wartburg's obscure bard, Bob De Young, a sophomore, came out of his cloistered apartment in the basement of Grossmann hall to make known his unusual resolution for the year of 1953.

"I am a poet," Bob said, "and my resolution is to write better poetry about my lost loves."

Sprawled in his bed with his eyes fastened to the pages of a Latin text, Joe Unzen, freshman, broke out laughing when asked whether he'd made any resolutions for the new year. Moments later Joe became calm enough to speak. "Be it resolved," he said with great pomposity "that I will study harder, that I will not cut any classes and that I will eat plenty of food."

Although they wouldn't make a verbal submission of it, Wartburg girls, it's rumored, have again made the traditional resolution of getting themselves men in 1953.

2 Faculty Members Attend Conferences

R. Muellers Have Son

Two Wartburg faculty members, Dr. G. J. Neumann, of the English department, and Dr. J. O. Chellevold, of the math department, were away from the campus recently attending meetings.

Dr. Neumann attended a meeting of the Board of Publications of the American Lutheran church at Columbus, Ohio, Wednesday. Dr. Chellevold took part in the annual convention of the Mathematical Association of America, held during the holidays at Washington university, St. Louis, Mo.

David Wayne is the new 8-lb. 2-oz. boy in the Carl Mueller trailer court. He was born Dec. 29 at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital in Waverly to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Mueller.

Russ is a senior from the here. Mrs. Mueller is the former Norma Tetsch, who attended Wartburg in 1950-51.
